

GOVERNOR
DUMMER
ACADEMY

the Archon

newsletter

MARCH 1972

Editorial

Ours is a world of change, change which is both frequent and rapid. The Archon Newsletter is part of that change. In 1906 when the Archon first appeared under the editorship of Arthur H. Cole '07 it was a student news publication and continued as such until the arrival of Edward W. Eames as headmaster in 1930. Then it became a multi-purpose magazine aimed at students, parents of prospective students, and alumni. In 1964 it became solely an alumni publication, and many of you generously contributed to it or were featured in it. At the same time, the magazine attempted to keep you updated on significant events which were occurring on campus.

As a semi-annual publication, the Archon was becoming increasingly expensive to publish, and by the time it was received it was outdated as far as campus events were concerned. So the Newsletter takes its proper place in the line of lineal descent from Arthur Cole's original magazine. With the present format, it is our intent to publish more frequently, thus providing a more updated picture of the Academy and the alumni.

New Trustees

At their mid-winter meeting the Trustees elected two new members, Mrs. Phebe Stevens Miner of Andover, and Dr. An Wang of Lincoln.

Mrs. Miner, a 1944 graduate of Bryn Mawr, is the wife of Joshua L. Miner, a former member of the faculty at Phillips Academy who is currently president of Outward Bound, Inc. She is the mother of five:—Phebe; Louise; Joshua, IV, a 1969 Governor Dummer graduate; John; and Daniel. Included among her many activities are membership on the Phillips-Abbot Committee on Boy-Girl Relationships and Co-Chairmanship of the 1971-72 Andover Parents' Fund.

Dr. Wang is the founder of Wang Laboratories, Inc. in Tewksbury.

A NEW TREND IN COLLEGE PLACEMENT

A new phenomenon of college placement, which is likely to remain a permanent part of the Governor Dummer scene, is the increasing use of the early-decision application. In this time of multiple application by candidates, many colleges are now encouraging qualified students to apply early to the college of their first choice in the hope of recognizing a substantial number of students who are seriously planning to attend that particular institution. If used intelligently, the advantages of this plan are several in number. The student may relieve the very intense, senior-year pressure by winning acceptance in December. Secondly, the college acquires a tool to use in its spring choices, even if it cannot justify a December acceptance. Finally, of much benefit to both the college and the secondary school is the fact that much paper work can be avoided at both ends of the line. Of course, the problems remain unsolved if the students do not make realistic applications.

The Class of 1971 at the Academy used the early-decision plan with good results. About one-third of the class applied for early decision, and one-fifth was accepted. So far in the school year 1971-72, the results have not been so impressive, owing partly to multiple applications to schools such as Amherst, Bowdoin, and Williams. About one-third of those who have applied for early decision have been accepted, with several notices not yet in. The trend then is for a substantial portion of each class to avail themselves of this opportunity. If used wisely, the pressures of the senior year can be substantially alleviated. On the other hand, if used largely to apply to "long-shot" college choices, the results will be less than satisfactory.

THE CHANGING ADMISSIONS PICTURE

The response which we have had to Mr. Wilkie's letter to alumni and parents on the subject of strengthening our recruitment efforts has been heartening. First of all, a good number of catalogues have been sent to people suggested by our friends. Also, meetings for prospective students have been held in Swampscott, Worcester, Portland, and Hartford, and others remain possibilities.

It is too early to tell what will come of this, although it is apparent that Recently he was presented a "Faith in Massachusetts" award by Governor Francis Sargent. Dr. Wang was at M. I. T. when he gained national recognition as a pioneer in the invention of the magnetic memory core, which is the heart of modern computers.

Dr. and Mrs. Wang have three children: Frederick; Courtney, a member of the Class of '74 at Governor Dummer; and Juliette.

continued effort by all of us is essential. We know that the total number of boys and girls taking the Secondary School Admission Tests in December for all schools fell from about 18,000 to about 16,000. We know that we have not seen as many potential candidates this fall as we did last year. Furthermore, on the basis of last year's experience, we believe that more people are postponing their investigation of secondary schools until later in the year. And finally, it is our hope that the uncertainties of Phase II will be resolved in time to make the investigation of independent schools seem practical to more families.

Happily, we have seen enough girls and boys this fall to reassure us that panic is not necessary. However, the whole Governor Dummer family should be concerned, and the continuing efforts of all of you are needed.

The following is the schedule for Alumni Day:

10:30 a.m.	Registration
11:00	Campus Tours
11:30	Music Concert by Governor Dummer students
11:30-12:30	Cookout
12:45	Dedication of the Schumann Science Center
1:15-4:30	Discussion Groups
1:00-5:00	Athletics
4:30	Reception-Cocktails
6:15	Buffet Supper

The discussion groups on contemporary subjects and issues pertinent to the school have been included on the program. These were extremely popular last year, with alumni, faculty, and students having the opportunity to exchange opinions and viewpoints concerning the Academy.

Another highlight of the day will be the dedication of the new Schumann Science Center which has been in use since school opened in September. The reconstruction of the old Lang Gymnasium as the Schumann Science Center was made possible through the generosity of Mrs. John J. Schumann, Jr. and the Florence and John Schumann Foundation.

The first mailing announcing Alumni Day in the form of a large wall-size poster has already been sent to all the alumni, and other mailings are being planned.

Hope you can make it for Alumni Day!

ANNUAL FUND OVER $50,000

Slightly past the mid-way point, this year's Annual Fund appears to be headed for a new record. The previous all-time high was in 1968-69, the year before the "Resources for the Seventies" capital campaign, when annual giving reached $79,000. Last year's Annual Fund, the first since the "Resources" campaign, reached $69,000. This year the Annual Fund total is currently at $51,000, and with continued alumni and parent support, a new record is possible.

This is the second year of Leadership Gift Clubs in the Annual Fund. The Headmaster's Club ($1,000 and up), 10 members; Governor's Club ($250-$999), 26 members; Century Club ($100-$249), 79 members; Academy Club ($50-$99), 73 members.

Alumni and parent gifts to the Annual Fund have traditionally provided the Academy with an extra margin of flexibility, and this year is no exception as the school needs $50,000 more in Annual gifts in order to guarantee the continued strength of the Governor Dummer education.
